

Senior Level Consultants

Dove Consulting, a division of Hitachi Consulting, is a nationally-recognized business strategy and organization effectiveness consulting firm with a significant practice in electronic payments and retail banking. We are seeking industry-leading professionals to join this practice in our Boston office. The ideal candidates will work with major banks, financial services companies, technology providers, and EFT networks to develop strategies and business plans, and conduct market research and competitor/industry analyses.

The Position

- Lead electronic payments, retail banking strategy, and market research engagements, ensuring the highest standards of delivery quality
- Provide thought leadership on emerging trends and opportunities through white papers, speeches, and primary research
- Build and maintain strong client relationships
- Excite and develop outstanding consultants

The Requirements

- A demonstrated track record of expertise in electronic payments and retail banking with a leading financial services, consulting, or technology provider
- Superior in-depth knowledge of payments (e.g., debit, credit, ATM) and retail financial services
- Prior experience in consulting a must
- Experience in strategy development and market research
- Exceptional communication and presentation skills
- MBA from a nationally recognized program preferred

If you aspire to work with many of the best companies in the business, join our team of leading professionals and experience our culture of challenge, dedication, and fun!

Please email or mail your resume to:

Dove Consulting, a division of Hitachi Consulting

75 Park Plaza

Boston, MA 02116

Phone: 617-482-2100

Email: recruiting@doveconsulting.com

www.doveconsulting.com

Hitachi Consulting Is An Equal Opportunity Employer